

BUILDING INTERDISCIPLINARY RESEARCH CAREERS IN WOMENS HEALTH

A Duke-NCCU NIH funded K-12 career program for Young Faculty

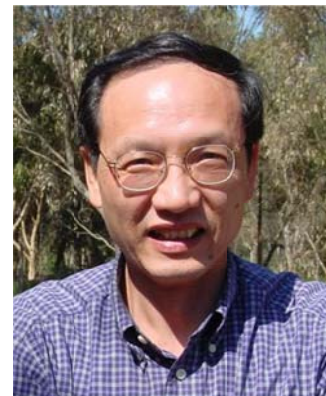

THE BIRCWH SYMPOSIUM

Friday, February 25, 2011

Benjamin Lecture Hall, Jones Building Room 143

1:00PM: Introduction to the BIRCWH Program:

Phyllis C. Leppert, MD, PhD Program Director

Dr. Aaron Hsueh

1:15PM: Ovarian Research in the Post-Genomic Era

Aaron Hsueh, PhD, Department of Obstetrics/Gynecology, Stanford U

2:00PM: Beta-arrestin Mediated Desensitization of the Oxytocin Receptor

Chad Grotegut, MD, Department of Obstetrics/Gynecology, Duke

BIRCWH Scholar

2:15PM: Gender Differences in Emotional Regulation in Later Life

Moria Smoski, PhD, Department of Psychiatry, Duke

BIRCWH Scholar Emeritus

2:30PM: The Hyperbranched Glycerol Nanocarrier: Treatment for Fibroids

Darlene Taylor, PhD, Department of Chemistry, NCCU

BIRCWH Scholar

2:45PM: The Duke Autoimmunity in Pregnancy Registry

Megan Clowse, Department of Medicine, Duke

BIRCWH Scholar Emeritus

3:00PM: Reception